

May's Poem for Mayor's Service

Our Town, Our Community

In Arundel, by the river's flow,
Where castle walls and stories grow,
The Duke of Norfolk leads with pride,
And in our hearts, our town's alive.

The Museum holds our history dear,
It shows the path that brought us here,
With tales of those who came before,
A treasure trove forevermore.

The Beavers, Cubs, and Scouts unite,
In service, learning, doing right,
The Rainbows, Brownies, Guides all share,
A spirit of love, a will to care.

Two schools, where children laugh and learn,

In every heart, bright dreams still burn,
And churches three, where prayers rise high,
To lift our hopes up to the sky.

The town council works with steady hands,
To build a future where hope stands,
Our football club with cheers so loud,
Brings joy and pride to all the crowd.

Together, we are strong and kind,
In Arundel, all lives are twined,
Through every street, each voice, each friend,
Our community knows no end.

So here we stand, both big and small,
United, we can do it all,
With love, with hope, with hands held tight,
Our Arundel shines ever bright.
